LAURENS, S. C., March 21, 1906.

A LAURENS CANDIDATE.
The Manning Times remarks:

"Col. J. E. Norment, private secretary to Governor Heyward, has announced that he will be a candidate for the office of Secretary of State. Norment is a fine fellow and has a host of friends throughout the State, but there is Elbert Aull, who is also suspected of having aspirations for that office and he too has a host of friends among Norment's friends. The two will conflict and it would be easier to arrive at a choice if these two charming fellows would get together and agree which should be the secretary, and which should be the chief clerk. Then the friends could help both at one and the same time."

They are fine gentlemen and more than willing to surrender themselves wholly to the service of the State but Laurens County will poll about 3,301 votes in the primary this year and these gentlemen will divide the odd vote with McCown, also a candidate and, like Mr. Norment, a state house employee, which Mr. Aull was during the McCown administration. The remaining 3,300 votes, we hope and trust and pray will go for Col. "Mit" P. Tribble of Anderson, formerly of Laurens and still proud of Laurens as Laurens is proud of him.

By the way, Governor Heyward, a man of judgment, appointed Col. Tribble a year or two ago to complete the Confederate rolls and he did the work well. This old veteran entered the Confederate army from Laurens and fought the four years—and it is telling no tales out of school to say that he continued to fight for a number of years after Appomattox—because the necessity for fighting did not cease in Laurens until Wade Hampton had been firmly placed in the governor's office. First, because Col. Tribble made a highly satisfactory clerk of court for Anderson county, an excellent postmaster for Anderson city when Democratic postmasters were in fashion, because he is a competent man, and, second, because there are few left in South Carolina who so faithfully, so bravely and honorably and at much cost saved South Carolina, Laurens County is for him—and let it be to a man!

It would give us genuine pleasure to vote for our old college friend McCown or for Norment and Aull, our newspaper friends, but we are for Tribble, and we believe that that solitary doubtful vote in Laurens is veering.

We have no second choice in this race—there is going to be one primary.

WARE SHOALS.

The doubling of the capital of the Ware Shoals Company, making it one million dollars, means much for the improvement of the region in the center of which the property lies. A large and thriving manufacturing town will be built, an increasing market is provided for the farmers in the neighborhood and all the inhabitants for miles around will receive benefit in one way or another. Indeed these benefits have been enjoyed for several years but the doubling of the capital means that they are to be greatly multiplied.

Through long years of difficulty Mr. N. B. Dial and his associates clung to this Ware Shoals proposition and their faith did not fail. Mr. W. R. Richey, Congressman J. T. Johnson and Mr. J. O. C. Fleming of the original syndicate perhaps others followed Mr. Dial's leadership and held on through good and evil times until northern capitalists were convinced of the magnificent value of the water power and invested largely in it. The fact that the Messrs Reigel own the controlling interest does not take from the credit to which Mr. Dial and his Laurens friends are entitled for it was the initiative and their unwavering endeavors that have resulted in the splendid development on the Saluda. Moreover, one of the Messrs Reigel has become or will become a South Carolinian, so it remains also through his interest a home enterprise.

Mr. Dial and the gentlemen who stood by him in the enterprise until they had built the dam and partially built the mill, for then the proposition spoke for itself, have done a great work for the industrial development of this section and of this work Mr. Dial has personally done the larger part.

DR. IRBY'S APPOINTMENT.

In appointing Dr. William C. Irby a member of the State Reformatory Board, the merits of a modest citizen who has always been active in working for his friends and who has asked nothing for himself, were recognized by the governor.

Dr. Irby deserves the compliment—few men who have done so much for their neighbors have received so little in return. Dr. Irby was a soldier and a veteran long before he was a man in age, and we have never known the time when he was not ready to do a man's part. His medical experience as well as his experience in practical affairs will be of great value to the Reformatory Board, and Governor Heyward is to be praised for enlisting him. When it comes to public positions, which most men seek, Dr. Irby must be conscripted. He is more interested for his friends than for himself.

INSURANCE.

Insure against over-production of cotton. The way to insure is to produce cotton, peas, grain, other forage crops, vegetables, pork, poultry and all supplies. This is the only insurance against the possible disaster of low priced cotton.
If you have a barn full and a crib full and a smokehouse you will be able to hold six cents cotton until it brings twelve cents perhaps.

For a farmer, a smoke-house deposit is better even than a bank deposit.

ADVANTAGES OF A NEW COUNTY.

A new county would make more offices and more candidates. That would make things a little more lively during election years, but how is that to help the tax payers? County officers have to be paid and the expenses of the administration of county affairs have to be met. Increased expenses must mean increase of taxes.

Why is it that newspapers and politicians who supported Col. W. J. Talbert, who said in Edgefield last summer that he had been a prohibitionist twenty years and who opposes the dispensary, are now so enthusiastic in advocating a Dispensary candidate for Governor?

Col. William Jennings Bryan was, has been and is twelve thousand miles from "The Commoner." Washington and the Railroad Rate bill since Senator Tillman was placed in charge of it by Senator Aldrich and other friends of the railroads. Col. Bryan went to Asia months ago.

Three little rules we all should keep,
To make life happy and bright,
Smile in the morning, smile at noon,
Take Rocky Mountain Tea at night.

MEETING OF THE BRIARS.

Survivors of Company G, 3rd S. C. V., to Hold Reunion April 14th.

The Twentieth Annual Reunion of this command will be held at the Gray Court-Owings Institute, Saturday, April 14th.
For these nineteen years, no matter how far behind with work, nor how unfavorable the weather, we have not failed to have a good meeting. We will not fail this time. Old comrades and others from a distance will be invited to talk to us on that day. Survivors of other commands and the public in general are expected to meet with us. Don't fail to bring something to eat. Veterans, let us answer to roll call on the 14th.

The Breath of Life.
It's a significant fact that the strongest animal of its size, the gorilla, also has the largest lungs. Powerful lungs means powerful creatures. How to keep the breathing organs right should be man's chiefest study. Like thousands of others, Mrs. Ora A. Stephens, of Port Williams, O., has learned how to do this. She says: "Three bottles of Dr. King's New Discovery stopped my cough of two years and cured me of what my friends thought consumption. O, it's grand for throat and lung troubles. Guaranteed by Laurens Drug Co. and Palmetto Drug Co. Price 50 cents and $1.00. Trial bottle free."

AN EFFECTIVE SAMPLE.

A clergyman was very fond of a particular hot brand of pickles, and finding great difficulty in procuring the same sort at hotels when traveling always carried a bottle with him. One day when dining at a restaurant with his pickles in front of him, a stranger sat down at the same table, and, with an American accent, presently asked the minister to pass the pickles. The minister, who enjoyed the joke, politely passed the bottle, and in a few minutes had the satisfaction of seeing the Yankee watering at the eyes and gasping for breath.
"I guess," said the latter, "that you are a parson?"
"Yes, my friend, I am," replied the minister.
"I suppose you preach?" asked the Yankee.
"Yes, sir; I preach twice a week, usually," said the minister.
"Do you ever preach about hell fire?" inquired the Yankee.
"Yes; I sometimes consider it my duty to remind my congregation of eternal punishment," returned the minister.
"I thought so," rejoined the Yankee, "but you are the first of your class I ever met who carried samples." The Tatler.

A household necessity—Dr. Thomas' Electric Oil. Heals burns, cuts, wounds of any sort; cures sore throat, croup, catarrh, asthma; never fails.

He was a Gentleman.

A few days ago I was passing through a pretty, shady street where some boys were playing at baseball. Among their number was a little lame fellow, seemingly about twelve years old—a pale, sickly-looking child, supported on two crutches, and who evidently found much difficulty in walking, even with such assistance.

The lame boy wished to join the game, for he did not seem to see how much his lameness would be in his own way, and how much it would hinder the progress of such an active sport as baseball. His companions very good-naturedly tried to persuade him to stand at one side and let another take his place, and I was glad to notice that none of them hinted that he would be in the way, but that they all objected for fear he would hurt himself.

"Why, Jimmy," said one, "you can't run, you know."
"Oh! hush, said another, the tallest in the party. "Never mind; I'll run for him," and he took his place by Jimmy's side, prepared to act. "If you were like him," he said to the other boys, "you wouldn't want to be told of it all the time."

As I passed on I thought to myself that there was a true gentleman.—Ram's Horn.
